2005 Dry Chenin Blanc — Clarksburg —

Sip and Slurp

“It’s a dirty job. But someone has to do it. At Taylor Shellfish Farm’s 12th annual Pacific Coast Oyster Wine Competition, more than 36 oyster- and wine-loving judges sipped some 150 West Coast wines and downed thousands of Kumamotos—all to select wines that best pair with raw oysters. The 10 winners share the ultimate “bliss factor”: a vibrant combination of minerals, sweetness, and a hint of the sea. Our food and entertaining editor, Julia Rutland, tasted all 10, and her favorite was Dry Creek Vineyard’s 2005 Dry Chenin Blanc.”
